Operation A, B, C, Planned For Area

There will be a clinic at the Pahokee Elementary School, Thursday night, March 7 at 7:00 p. m. in the library, for all volunteer, helping teachers in "Operation Alphabet."

If you know of someone you can help teach to read and write, please be present or if you just want to help, be present.

If you want further information please contact Mrs. Evelyn Lair, Pahokee Elementary School or phone 4-5741 after school hours.

This program is being sponsored by the Department of Adult and Veteran Education of the Palm Beach County Schools and State Department of Education.

Think how complicated life would be if you couldn't read street signs . . . if you had to sign checks with an "X" . . . if you were unable to read labels or medicine bottles or fill out an employment application.

That's the plight of some 13,000 Palm Beach County men and women in this area who are classified by the Census Bureau as functionally illiterates because they cannot read or write on the sixth grade level.

Starting on March 11, a brand new 33-week television series, "Operation Alphabet" will offer these individuals an opportunity to learn these basic skills right in their own homes. The series is being supported by many agencies, and will be broadcast over Stations WTHS, Channel 2, and WLWB, Channel 10.

Leaders of community interfaith and inter-racial groups urge all local citizens to help make this campaign a success in the following way:

1. Encourage all known adult non-readers to participate in "Operation Alphabet."
2. Help to procure and distribute the needed Home Study Book.
3. Volunteer to aid students as a lay-teacher in your neighborhood.

Democrat Run-Off Scheduled Mar. 12

As a result of Tuesday's voting there will be run-off between Jim Stafford and Bill Pruitt and between Harvey Oyer and Gene Moore for the two new seats in the House of Representatives. The runoff election is scheduled for Tuesday, March 12.

The Farm Front

In spite of the big freeze in December, and prospects of a sharply reduced harvest this season, Florida is still very much in the citrus business.

That fact will be apparent to visitors at the forthcoming Florida Citrus Exposition at Winter Haven March 6-19.

I think we're fortunate that we have far-sighted, aggressive leaders in the citrus industry, the most important single factor in our growing agricultural economy. They recognize the vital importance of preventing any deterioration in the image of Florida as the world leader in citrus.

That our citrus crop will be back to record - breaking proportions one of these days there can be little doubt. Prior to the freeze the total number of citrus trees in Florida was officially estimated at 52,156,000, of which 15,840,000 had not yet come into production. Indications are that planting of additional acreage will continue.

Because recent developments in the European Common Market have clouded the outlook for increasing our citrus exports to that part of the world, we must look for the present to our domestic market to absorb the great bulk of our citrus production.

That means our citrus industry must maintain a strong advertising and promotion program to hold its market so the demand potential will be there when our crop is back to the all-time high level that was forecast before the freeze.

The Exposition is one phase of industry-supported promotion - a huge showcase displaying to our own citizens and to the nation visual proof that Florida is continuing to produce high-quality citrus and will be producing more of it in the years ahead.

The screwworm eradication program in the Southwest faces the possibility of grinding to a halt this spring. The reason: a shortage of funds.

The program is being financed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the one hand, and on the other the state of Texas and the Southwest Animal Health Foundation which represents livestock interests in that area.

The Foundation has issued a plea to livestock producers and sportsmen in 5 southwestern states to raise the remaining one million dollars of the group's 3-million-dollar share.

Unless the additional money is kicked in by March 1, the program may have to suspend, according to Charles Scruggs, Foundation president. By that date present non-Federal funds will be expended and more state money can't be appropriated until later.

The catch is that Federal funds in a co-operative program of this kind can't be spent in excess of a 50-50 matching basis.

In issuing an emergency appeal to save the program, the Foundation abandoned its original policy of not asking producers to contribute more than once. Stating the program has reached a critical phase, Scruggs noted that Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico had experienced in 1962 only a fraction of the screwworm infestations reported in previous years.

New Jersey has been having troubles similar to those which have been causing tax difficulties for agricultural producers in some Florida counties.

Agricultural zoning in some sections of New Jersey was advocated recently by planning officials at a meeting for poultry farmers held at Trenton.

It was pointed out that some poultry farmers have been forced out of business because of suburban sprawl and resultant high valuations and correspondingly high taxes placed on their land. The solution suggested is early adoption of adequate planning and zoning controls by municipal officials in rural areas where intensive development has not occurred.

A county planning board official urged the farmers to participate in planning activities. He advised them to take group action to secure regulations that would discourage "the hodge-podge scatteration of marginal high-density developments here and there through a low-density, low-cost farming area, bringing with them requests for city services, city protection, new schools and complaints about existing farming practices."

In Florida some of our leading agricultural organizations have formed the Florida Agricultural Tax Council, Inc. to seek reasonable assessments on land used for agricultural purposes. I hope they can get their message across to the residents of our fast-growing urban and suburban centers because those people need to understand they'll be wanting and needing in the future the open spaces that proper "green belt" zoning now can provide for them.

Forest Hill Wins Basket Ball Loop

In undefeated fashion Forest Hill's power-laden, seniors-dominated team has won the Suncoast Conference's 13th basketball campaign by 3 lengths as the teams primed this week for the season-ending tournaments in various sites.

The Falcons breezed by their final two tough tests last week, neither being as close as predicted. Palm Beach was dumped Tuesday 54-40 and Riviera succumbed 66-37 Friday night. But Palm Beach was hamstrung by the loss to illness a few hours before game time of ace guard Brian Murphy who had a 14.13 average for the league season, and the difference at game's end was 14 points, so Murphy in good health probably would have made that one considerably closer, if not in Palm Beach's favor.

Lake Worth drubbed Belle Glade 71-55 and Stuart 65-39 to win fourth place behind Forest Hill's two victims of the week. On the other end of the line, Clewiston lost its 19th and 20th straight by big margins to finish winless and 0-24 over-all.

Record breaking chances faded out, with Forest Hill's season total of 1,543 points being the lone new mark set in the league record book. That sum eclipsed the 1,267 total accumulated by last winter's co-champion Riviera team and Riviera also beat that mark this winter with 1,340 points, but the Hornets' per game average of 79.19 remains intact. Forest Hill averaged 77.15. Also intact are Clewiston's Ron Robinson's records set a year ago in the individual department of field goals, total points and season average. Forest Hill's Frank Saier threatened them all, but couldn't top them.

Saier finished, as expected, as the conference's best pointmaker with a fine 20.95 average while playing all Forest Hill's 20 starts. Runnerup is 10th place Belle Glade's star forward, Tom Close, at 18.37. Third is Pahokee's junior guard, Alberto Morrell, at 16.95 followed by Forest Hill's senior forward, Harry Winkler, at 16.42.

Other leaders are Bob Snyder of Ft. Pierce at 15.90, Rick Lee of Riviera at 15.05, Charles Hall of Stuart at 14.79, Dave Steinbauer of Lake Worth at 14.67, Rick Bran-an of Vero at 14.30, Murphy at 14.13, Martin Amestoy of Seacrest at 14.05, Craig Gruber of Riviera at 13.80, Bill Whitman of Riviera at 13.80, Roy Goodson of Clewiston at 13.80, Mike Mazzina of Ft. Pierce at 12.90, Bob Shoff of Lake Worth, 12.37.

Final standings:

*"Today we need a nation of Minute Men . . . .
citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life . . . ."*

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unrelenting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

Celery Boosted As Modern Food

American youngsters have selected celery as their No. 1 choice among fresh vegetables, according to a recent performance study. During the next few weeks, large shipments of Florida celery will be going to food markets throughout the East.

In an effort to help sales, Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner announced today that the Department's marketing division will assist celery growers in a special promotion. The growers went out in the field to hold the promotion. The promotion is being held in conjunction with National Peanut Week, and supermarkets will be featuring celery stuffed with peanut butter. This combination not only provides an appetizer for meals, but it is also a great in-between-meal snack for youngsters, according to food specialists.

Celery is a comparatively new vegetable for the dinner table. The ancestor of modern celery came from the marshy areas of southern Europe and the Near East. It was edible, but too bitter to taste good. As a result it was used as a medicinal herb.

Then, botanists began experimenting and cross breeding. Celery began to taste better and better. Today you find the flavorful results in the large-ribbed celery which comes from Florida vegetable farms. Celery is low in calories. A large, outer stalk may have only seven. Even so, it still contains useful amounts of vitamins and minerals.

Reading, Writing On Educational TV

TALLAHASSEE—Some 39 Florida citizens will be in service offices from Palm Beach to Key West will carry the message of "Operation Alphabet" to half a million Florida citizens during the next year.

A project of the State Department of Education, Operation Alphabet is a course in basic reading and writing to be given on the state's educational television network and through some commercial television stations.

State Industrial Commission Chairman A. Worley Brown said, "We are eager to do our part in Operation Alphabet for three reasons. Every citizen should be interested in raising the educational level of the state. The educational level of the state. The Industrial Commission is directly concerned because better educated people are employed more steadily and that means fewer people on unemployment compensation. Finally, a higher level of education means better qualified employees."

Asks State's Aid Private Colleges

DELAND—A new partnership between the state of Florida and its private colleges will be proposed to the state legislature, Stetson University President J. Ollie Edmunds declared in his Founders Day address at Rollins College today (Feb. 25).

The proposal would allow the state to provide tuition grants and tuition loan funds so that students may choose whether they attend public or private institutions, Edmunds said. It will be submitted by the education committee of the state chamber of commerce and has the unanimous endorsement of the Florida Association of Colleges and Universities.

"It does not cost any less to attend a public institution of learning than it does to attend a private college," Edmunds declared. "It merely costs the student less."

"The difference between what the student pays to attend a public institution and the actual cost of operating the public institution is paid by taxpayers," he added.

The new plan will give the state a chance to join with private institutions in meetings today's unprecedented educational demands, the Stetson president said.

Florida Exhibit At N. Y. World's Fair

TALLAHASSEE—Florida's plans for a spotlight exhibit in the 1964-65 New York World's Fair were put in motion when Chairman Sam Banks of the Florida Citrus Commission paid the first $250,000 installment of a $1 million Commission pledge toward financing the project.

The check was sent to Florida Development Commission Chairman-Director Wendell Jarrard who turned it over to Florida World's Fair Authority Chairman Comer Kimball of Miami.

Construction is scheduled to begin immediately on a spectacular tower display promoting Florida citrus. The Authority expects to complete the tower portion of the exhibit by August so it can be on view for a full year in addition to the two-year run of the Fair.

Plans for the tower have been approved by the Citrus Commission after extensive study. It will be a triangular modern structure about 100 feet high. Near the top on each of the three sides will be a giant illuminated transparent color picture of a citrus scene, each the height of a two-story building. The tower will be white and silver, topped by a huge orange.

Counting the some 70 million people expected to visit the Fair, it's estimated on the basis of highway traffic counts on two of the busiest eight-lane highways in the world that about 700 million people will see the tower during the three-year period.

The $250,000 check from the Citrus Commission set the stage for an intensive campaign to raise the remainder of the money needed for the Florida exhibit.

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new  $3\frac{3}{4}\%$  interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to  $2\frac{1}{4}\%$  for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed  $4\%$  each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra  $\frac{1}{4}\%$  from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic  $\frac{1}{4}\%$  increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

 From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read: "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness" (p. 37).
